Oh Rats!

What do these creepy-crawly vermin have to do with art? We will find out this Thursday, when Gagetown School visits the Beaverbrook Art Gallery in Fredericton. Remember...great art is not always just a pretty picture. Sometimes it creates feelings of fascination and unease, which is the intent of Fredericton artist Janice Wright Cheney. What better subject to create controversy as they squirm into our imagination, but hordes of wriggling, nibbling rats. Janice's intriguing display, features hundreds of rats of various shades and colors, made from recycled, vintage fur coats. Almost makes your skin crawl...

Letters to Santa

Hi! I'm Emily. I was wondering Santa, are your elves working hard? How are your reindeer doing? How cold is it at the North Pole? For Christmas I would like an iPod because it has music on it and I would like a stuffy because they are soft. I love you because you deliver the presents to children last year.

Emily, Gr. 1

Hi, I'm Robbie! How do your reindeer go up in the sky? I just need to know. For Christmas I would like a Bay Blade Middle Master car please. I will give you cookies and milk.

Robbie, Gr. 1

Is it cold in the North Pole? Santa can I have a new game because all of my games are not working, but warpath is. Santa I will leave you cookies on the table because I want you to know where they are.

Daegon, Gr. 1

Hi Santa. How are you doing right now? I hope the reindeer are doing okay right now. I don't need so many toys this year because I have a million. I hope you have a great flight.

Ky, Gr. 2

How are your reindeer doing? How is Mrs. Claus? Could I please have a nerf gun, Xbox 360 live, Lego and a drum? I was good this year Santa.

Patrick, Gr. 2

It's JJ. I just want to ask you some questions. How cold is it at the North Pole? Do you have any back up reindeer? How are you doing? How many elves work for you? Is Rudolph's nose really magical? What do you eat and drink at the North Pole? Do you really come and visit us? Hi Santa let's talk about me now, okay. I love you very much and I would love to have some winx club dolls with wings. Can I please have Tisha, Flora and Stella with wings?

JJ, Gr. 2
